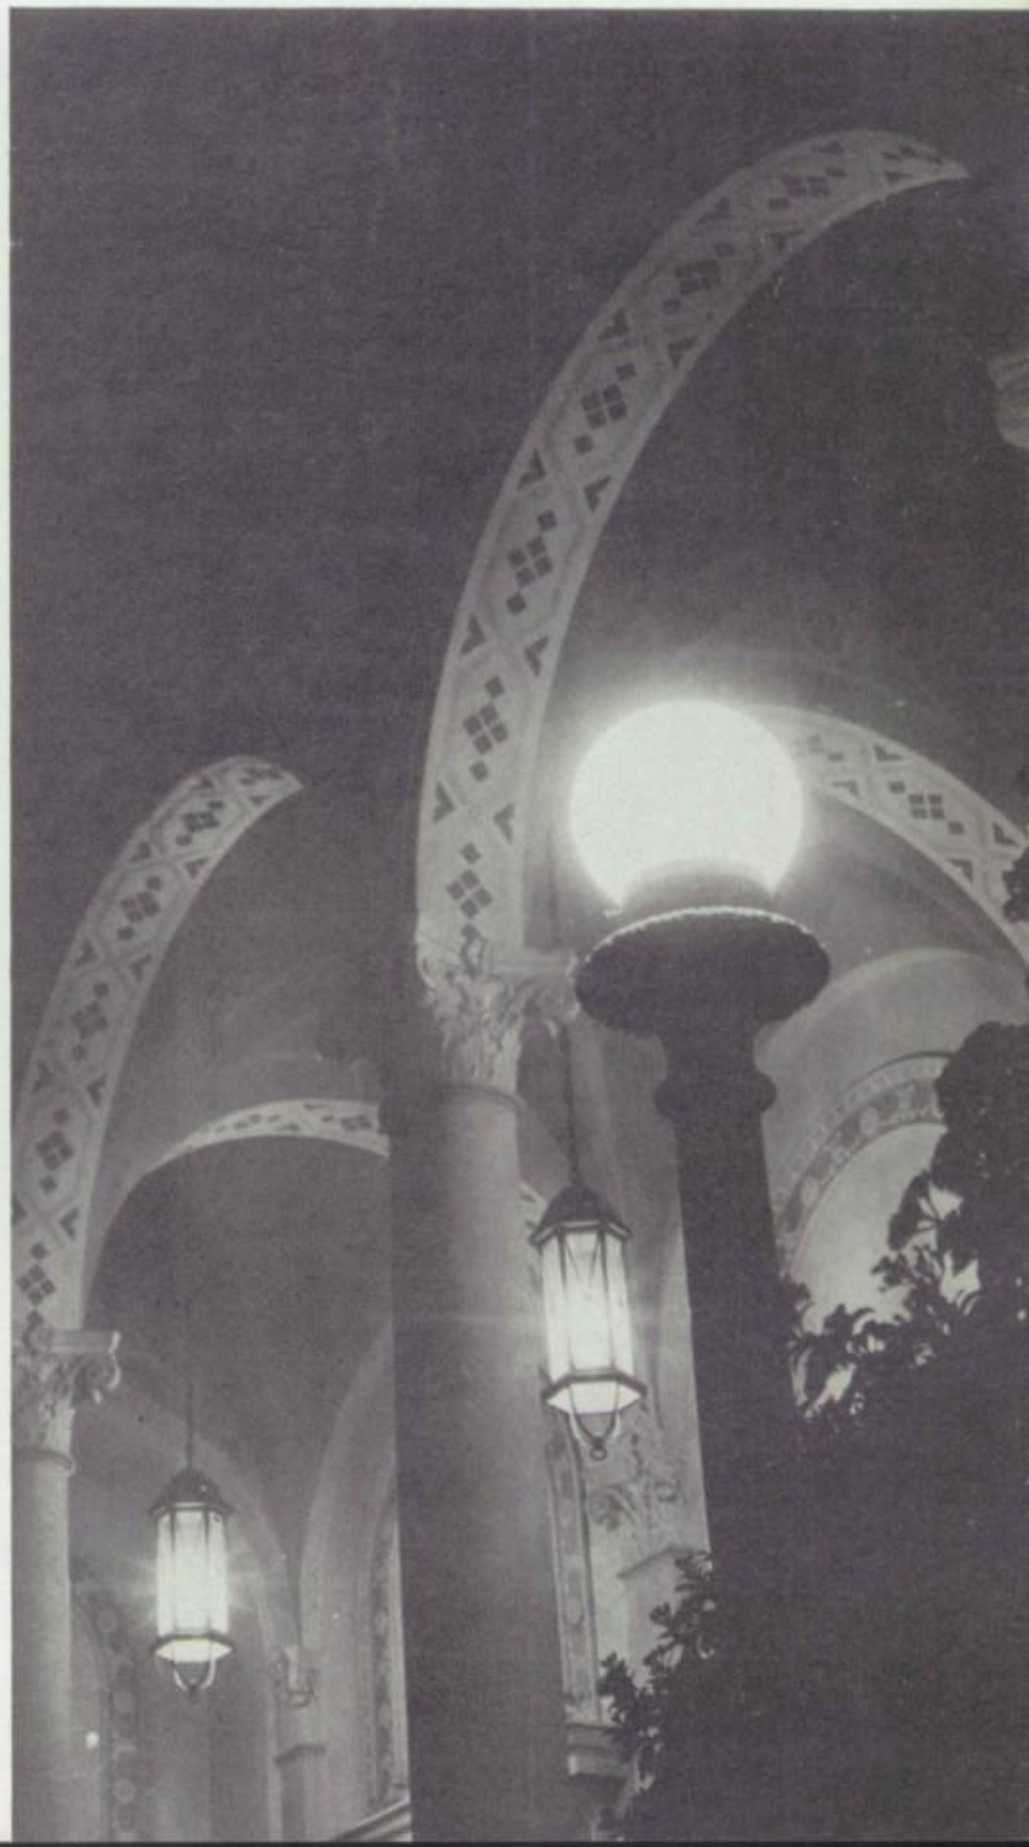
ever given the auditorium a real look? funny how we never notice the things that are most familiar to us. the next time you're in assembly why not glance at the painting on the ceiling or the grill under the clock? bet you'll see something different each time you look.

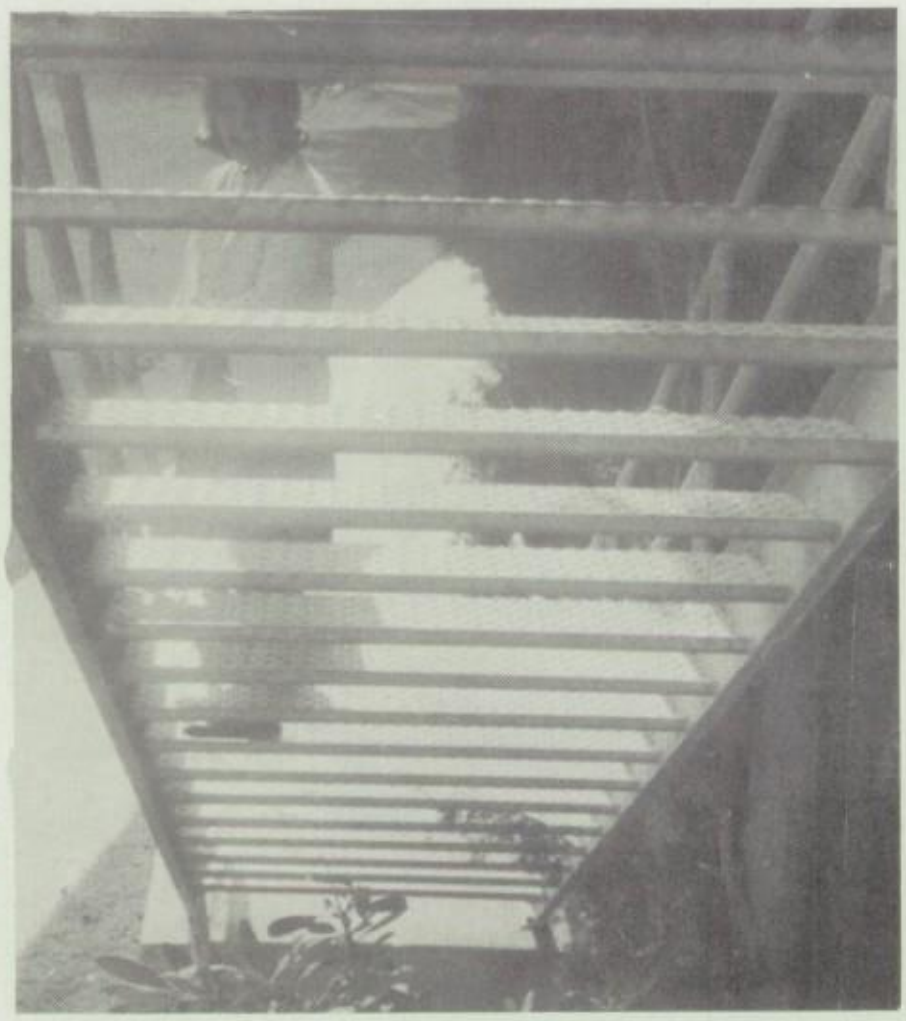
what would happen if it ever fell?

it's not everyone who can be the first one in line when the box office opens. hey, somebody better tell them that they have the wrong night.

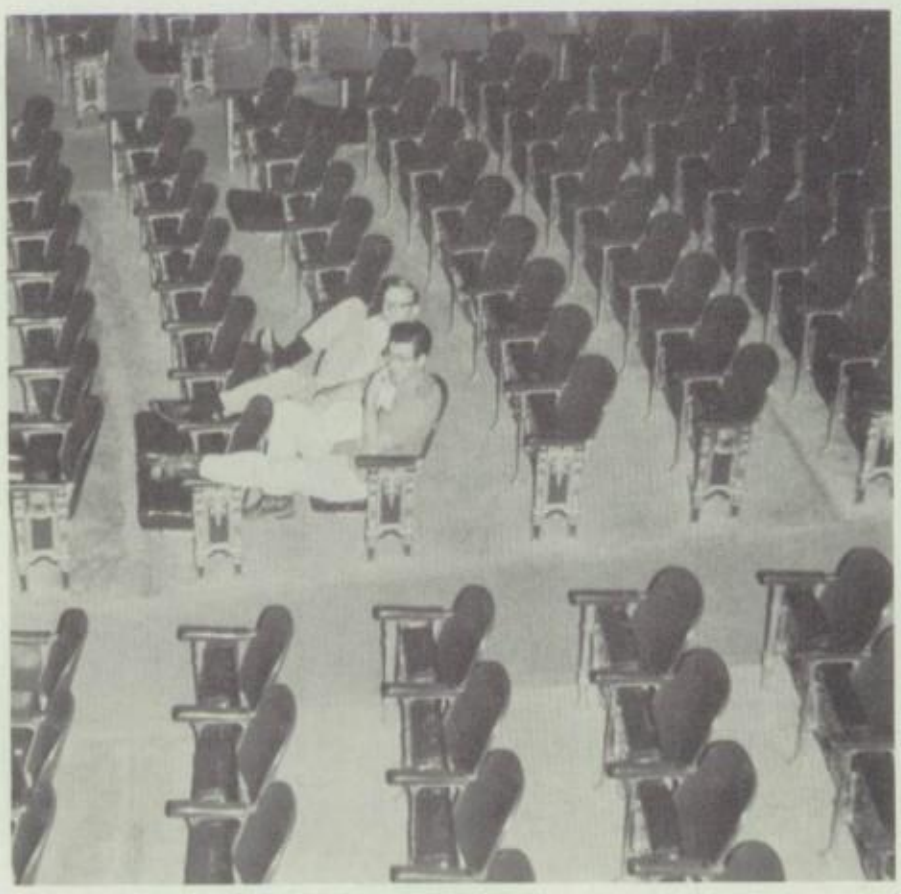
it's opening night and curtain time is eight o'clock. at seven the auditorium springs to life with lights.



hey there, frosh, ever get the feeling someone is staring as you leave assembly? someday when you're skipping down the stairway on the east wall, look up.



if your eyes don't recognize the pattern of these steps, your feet undoubtedly will.



these boys arrived an hour early for the big play. won't be long before every seat in the house will be taken.

the play's over, the curtain's drawn; the only thing left is a memory and a name scribbled backstage.

what a neat place to meet! some time when you have a spare moment, why not drop by the auditorium to look around? you'll see why it's the favorite building on campus.

Our friend and we were invited abroad on a party of pleasure, which is to last forever. His chair was ready first, and he is gone before us. We could not all conveniently start together; and why should you and I be grieved at this, since we are soon to follow, and know where to find him.

Looking for an opening, Mozingo eludes opposition, picking up help from Boyett and Nickel.

Jackson pounds out yardage before being brought to a stop.

Jackson spots hole furnished by downfield blocking.

Boyett scrambles to ackler as Mozingo runs to give assistance.

Rounding right end, Tracy cuts back to pick up a block from McDowell.

Jackson powers for extra yardage.

Have you ever tried running around the track in two minutes flat? These boys do it every day. It takes persistance to stick to this sport and receive a varsity letter. It takes endurance to run the 1.8 mile. Think you can do as well? Gonzalo Romo, captain of the varsity team, ran it in 9.37. Rudy Renteria, most valuable runner, almost made it with 9.38. Other boys who lettered and ran the 1.8 mile were Larry Bagley, 9:51; Frank Beltran, 10:05; Mickey Lisenbee, 10:31, and John Pauly, 10:28.

Inexperience doesn't seem to affect the records of the freshman-sophomore team. They really have determination! Willie Gooding, captain of the frosh-soph team, and Rudy Pallares, most inspirational runner, have proven this with scores of 9:57 and 9:49 for the 1.8 mile course.

Still interested in running the track? These boys are . . . you'll find them there to join you anytime.

COACH PARKER: "Too often success is measured by the won-lost record. If success could be determined by improvement, and a favorable season were one in which the players could be proud, then this squad was successful.

"Made up of only one letterman and no experienced height, the team performed in such a way as to bring it a sense of pride in a job well done.

"The highlight of the season was the defeat of Shafter. In that game, the team effort and selflessness was magnificent."

COACH EASTER: "It is a hard task to evaluate, in a purely objective light, a group of boys with whom you have worked many hours. This year's "B" team started with one experienced player and a group of eager boys. After a great number of mistakes and heartaches, a ball club emerged that played both as a champion and as a novice. Their biggest weakness was that at times they forgot they were a team, and their strongest quality was their determination to win. Not all the victories of this squad are listed in the won-lost column.

kittens

COACH DILLINGHAM: "This year's 'C' squad started with only one returning letterman. From an inexperienced group of players a championship team emerged which tied with Lemoore for first place in league competition. At times lackadaisical, the players learned that they had to scramble to win, and came through the season with an 8-2 won-lost record. Not only did they come through with a championship, these boys took with them a knowledge of the game of basketball."

this group has one thing in common . . . they love art. makes no difference what you can do . . . some sketch, some oil paint, some weave, some sculpture, and some just appreciate art. all you need to join this club is a desire to express yourself.

marching band

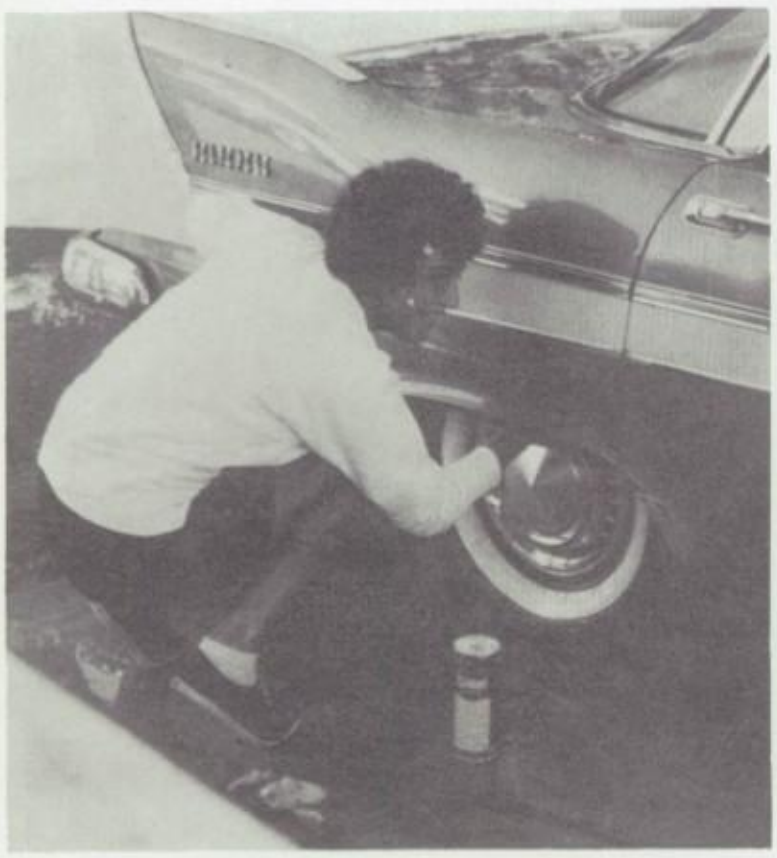
Hey! What's the swingin'-est group on campus? You guessed it . . . the band. And speaking of bands, here it comes now.Look at those snappy orange-and-black suited marchers! Listen to that music! Ever heard the like? See that guy over there in the white uniform? Yeah, that's their director. Everyone loves him.

You know, it seems like every time these guys go some place they bring back garlands. Take the time they attended the Delano Harvest Festival. Did you see it? No? Well you missed a good show by our band! How 'bout the potato bowl and the All-Western Band Review? Their participation is a credit to our school! Remember the Shafter 50th Sentinel parade and our own Vet's Day march? We know who's the best band around!

Look close now as it passes. Maybe you can see its leaders. There, that drum majorette, that's C. Settlemire, first semester treasurer. There's R. Penner, vice president, and P. Patrick, secretary. That trumpet player is President R. Mosley, and there's M. Bartel, student council representative. Hear the second semester officers: C. Carey, vice president; N. Douglas, treasurer; R. Mosley, student council representative; N. Barker, secretary, and President B. Craig are really carrying on the tradition.



This band paid its own way, too! You should'a seen the flying soapsuds at their car wash! But few band members, I might add)! They had lots the cars somehow emerged clean (and so did a of other projects, too. Remember that chocolate candy? How could anyone forget? We had chocolate running out of our ears.

Participation-wise this band is tops. They played in everything from assemblies to parades like this one.

Well, there they go. Listen to that applause down the way! Everyone loves them. What would we do without a band?

f f a story

Jerry Serjeant and Robert Long won the highest award that can be given by the State Association of the FFA when they were awarded the gold emblem of State Farmer at the State FFA convention. The awards were the culmination of a very active and successful year for Wasco Future Farmers.

Gary Hill was selected to receive the California Bankers award as the top Future Farmer in the chapter as a result of his scholarship, leadership and citizenship. The award was made by Jim Mack, manager of the Security First National Bank.

Jerry Gould won the sectional FFA speaking contest from the eight high schools in Kern County and placed second against the top competition from forty-two high schools which comprise the San Joaquin Valley region.

The first semester officers, with Jerry Serjeant as president, spent a couple of days at Bass Lake, planning the year's activities and enjoying the boating, fishing and swimming.

In project competition sponsored by the United California Bank, gold emblem certificates were won by Gary Hill, Ralph Fox and Robert Long, while silver emblems were awarded Jerry Serjeant, Nick Bowles and Terrell Newcomb. Robert Long was awarded a plaque for having the top Future Farmer project in Kern County.

For the fifteenth time in sixteen years, the Wasco Chapter farm mechanics exhibit won the purple sweepstakes ribbon at the California State Fair and with it the Salyer Grain and Milling Company trophy. If this trophy is won one more time, it becomes the permanent possession of the Wasco Chapter. A total of 65 ribbons was won at the State Fair, including 22 first prizes, 28 second prizes and 15 third prizes.

Lloyd Simpson had the champion FFA Hereford market steer and reserve champion at the Kern County Fair. Wasco market swine were awarded a trophy for the best ten hogs. Second place plaques were won for the prize groups of steers and lambs. The farm mechanics exhibit won two trophies, the sweepstakes and one for best school exhibit. Wasco supporters bid generous prices for the market animals offered for sale by the Wasco Future Farmers in the fair auction. Lloyd Simpson received the top price of fifty cents per pound for his champion Hereford.

At the Great Western Livestock Show in November, Lloyd Simpson had reserve champion FFA market steer, while Robert Long and Larry Hill exhibited the grand champion pen of three market steers with their Angus and Hereford pens respectively. Gary Hill and Ralph Fox each won a fifty-dollar prize offered by the Vernon Lions Club for market beef steers. Ricky Glover had reserve champion FFA market barrow.

In the open division, the carload of Angus steers exhibited by the Wasco Chapter had grand champion carload with California State Polytechnic College placing reserve. This is the seventh time the Wasco Chapter has had a grand champion load and Wasco is the only high school chapter to win such an award in the open division against college competition. Griffith Meat Company of Long Beach submitted the winning bid on the load, forty cents per pound.

In interchapter competition, the B Future Farmer basketball team won the consolation trophy, placing next to Arvin Future Farmer chapter.

Future Farmer field day consisted of painting and repairing chapter-owned equipment, a barbecue dinner at the park and a swim in the afternoon, under the chairmanship of Lloyd Simpson.

Pretty Pat Patrick, popular junior, was the choice of the FFA for chapter sweetheart. She represented the chapter at the sectional queen contest and at the chapter's annual banquet. She was presented the official jacket and charm at the banquet. She also participated in a musical trio, consisting of herself, Esther Hahn and Joan Wedel, who presented several numbers at the banquet and the FFA assembly.

A crowd of 365 Future Farmers, their parents and friends attended the annual FFA banquet in the high school cafeteria, which featured Spanish pit barbecue, prepared by Nick Bowles and his committee. The freshmen FFA boys did a fine job of decorating for the banquet, showing promise for future leadership.

Robert Long won the title of Star chapter farmer and with it the privilege of presenting his mother with the title of FFA Mother-of-the-Year and gifts from the chpater, an orchid corsage and a wool blanket manufactured from wool produced by the chapter flock. Robert shared a double honor when he was presented with the A. W. Breakiron award as the top combination of Father and Son. The award was presented by the donor, Dr. A. W. Breakiron of Fresno.

Advisors: MR. CRAIG and MR. SPILLSBURY.

Lloyd Simpson won the Bank of America Award, sponsored by Dick Gross, local manager, as the Future Farmer who has shown the most progress in the past year. Mr. Gross made the presentation.

The Senior Citizen of the Year award went to Dr. Lynn E. Gair for his contribution to the community in establishing the North Kern Hospital. Junior Citizen of the Year was Bob Counts, Wasco High FFA graduate and now manager of the Cal-Kern Co-operative merchandising organization.

Future Farmer National Foundation awards went to Lloyd Simpson, livestock; Jerry Gould, public speaking; Robert Long, crops; Darrell Voth, star greenhand; Eugene Wetmore, farm mechanics, and Charles Hamilton, poultry.

Dick Gross, Bank of America, and Mel Willis, Santa Fe Railway, were presented with honorary emblems, denoting membership in the Wasco Chapter FFA.

Want to take a quick trip on a flying carpet? Hop on and hang on . . . we're off! Let's fly south where lazy afternoons lull tiny villages into slumber, and guitar music lingers hauntingly on the soft night air.

First stop, an informal frolic of fun and food. The fun? . . . volleyball, broom hockey and three-deep (hey, just like an American gym party!) And food? . . . spicy, delicious, Spanish chili rolls.

All aboard the carpet as we head over bustling markets and sunbaked adobe huts until finally we land in a shady plaza. What's that noise? Look! A fiesta, and we're just in time to help break the pinata.

Off again and this time we're flying low over a bull fight ring. Alone in the ring, the tiny matador battles the bull. Look, there in the crowd! See some of the students who made the trip to Mexico by plane. They're taking pictures of the fight to show at school upon their return. Too bad we forgot our cameras.

Time to head for home. Flying north across the border, we wave goodbye to a wonderful journey.

Home at last! A quick coke from the Spanish booth is in order, then we'll hustle to our homes to get ready for the Spanish banquet. Night has finally fallen as we arrive at the banquet, the final event of a very exciting year in Spanish Club. We're home again, but who can forget our flying carpet trip into a magic land?

rallies

Have ya got that spirit? Yeah, man! Ya gonna keep that spirit? Yeah man! Enthusiasm, pep, get-up-and-go — call it what you like, but remember it as a rally.

To start the day with spirit, students gather for a morning rally.

With arms extended, Helen and Bonnie reach for victory.

Here, Suzanne, Pat and Max display school spirit in their routine.

Chris, Barbara and Annette display ability as first semester song leaders.

Second semester song leaders Andi, Janie and Fran execute routine to the lively music of the pep band.

Special rally attraction! L. Moon, R. Mosley, D. Hicks and D. Galloway display spirit and coordination while leading yells.

Freshmen win the rally!

wilted and crushed,
an orchid
lies in the cool moisture of the refrigerator warm memories of a six-foot quarterback clumsily dancing
in a sea of fantasy.
Then . . .
dreams entwined in flimsy sea nets . . .
a golden-haired mermaid
frolics
with silver fish.

THE

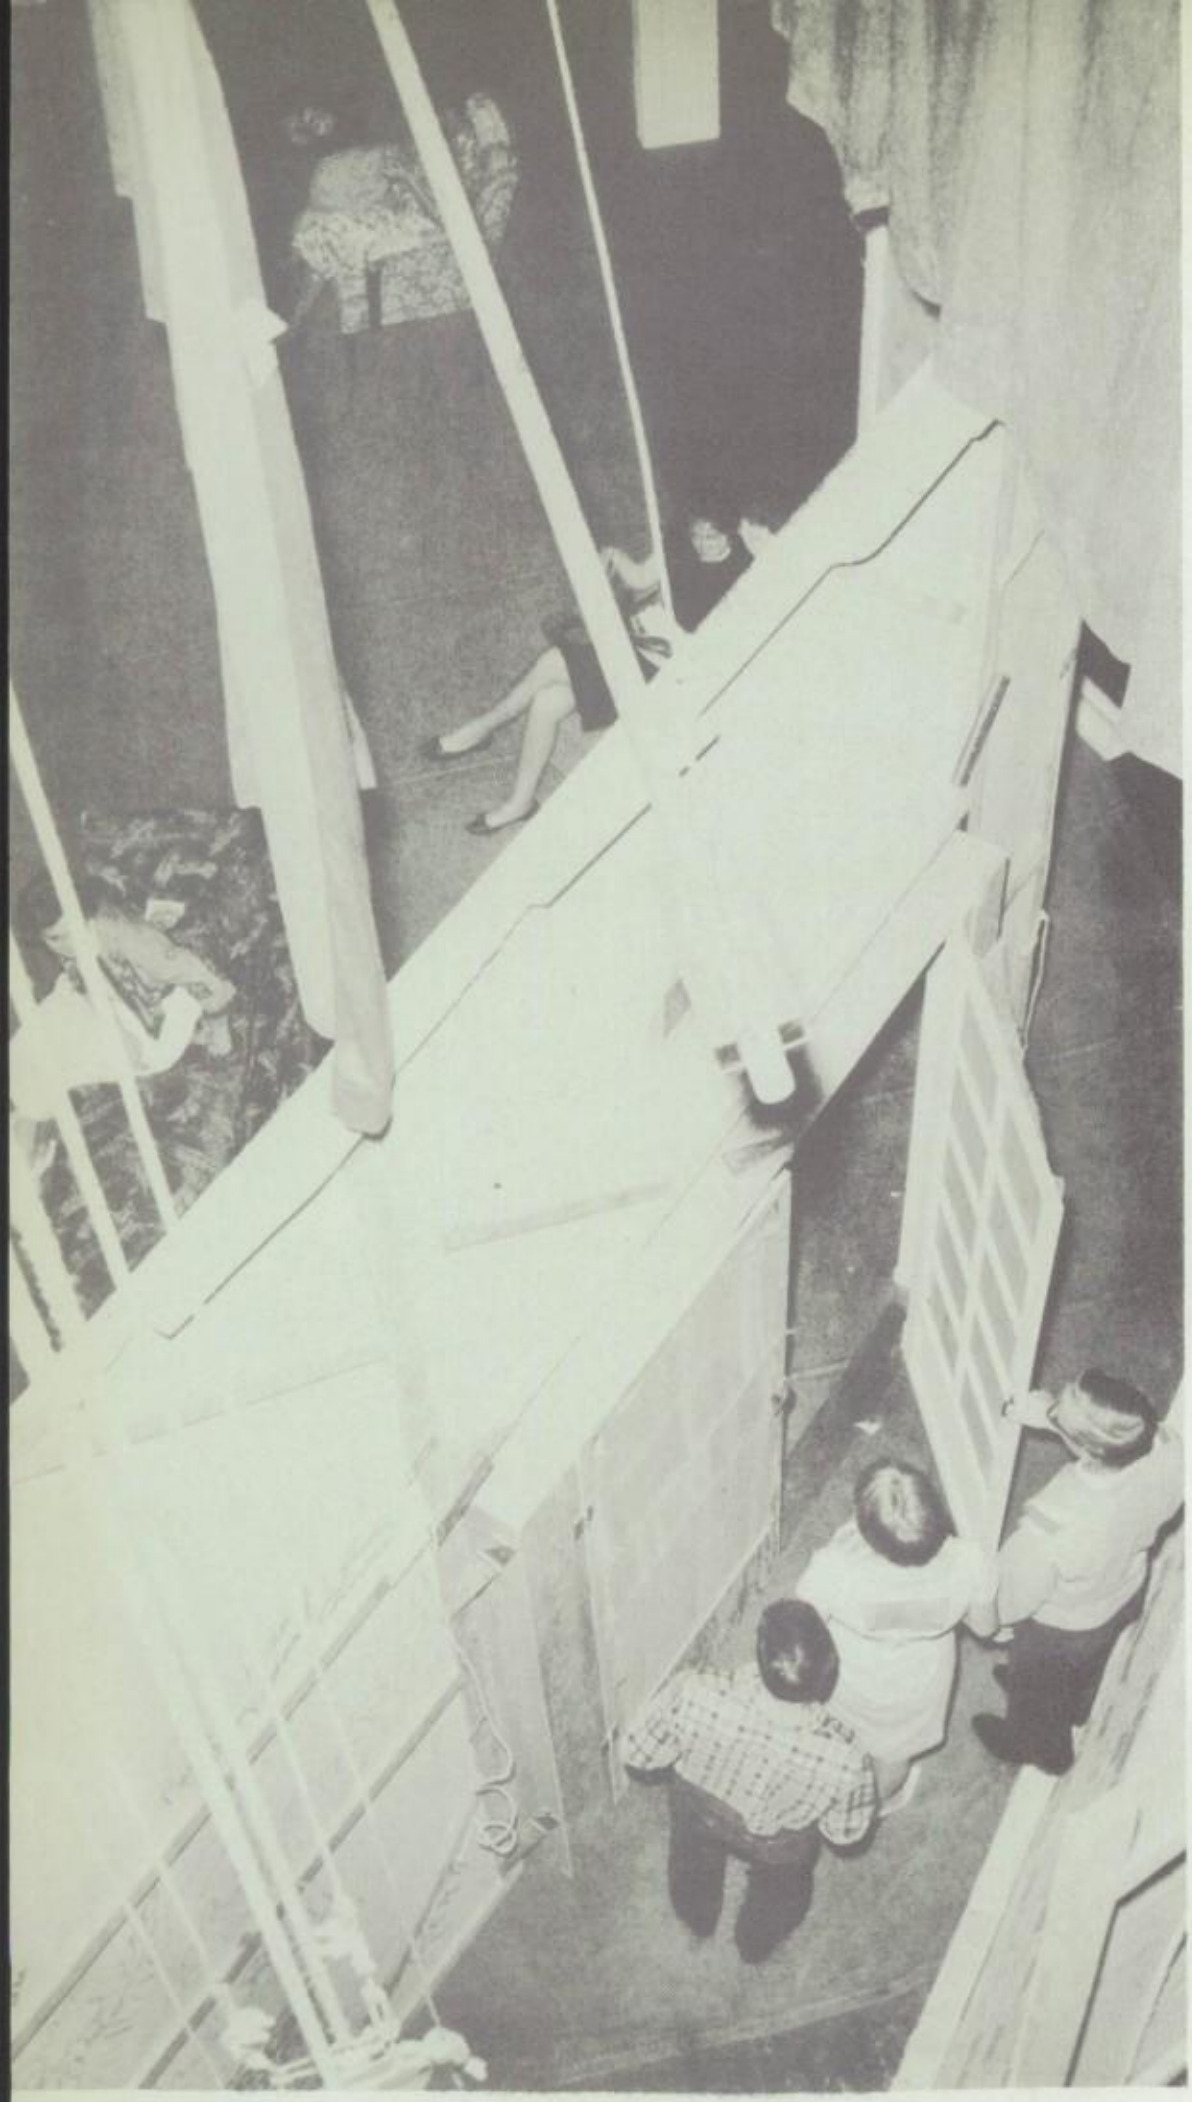
Richard. (He turns upon the family.) "Now you listen to me, my dear family. Ever since I remember, you've taken pleasure finding new ways to mortify me. 'Cause I was different 'n the rest of you. 'Cause you're naturally mean — and I didn't hit back. 'Cause I was the youngest. You've done every aggrevating thing you could to—to —standardize me—to make me 'average' —like you are. Well, now there's going to be a change!"



Bird's eye view shows Hicks, Drescner and Lisenbee awaiting cue backstage; on stage Miller, Groft and Dipple anticipate their entrance.

Director Mendenhall speculates on play's progress.

"Wait your turn, Lord Chesterfield—Beau Brummel—"

YOUNGEST

"I feel wonderful! I'd like to pull the sun out of the sky! I'd like to have great dripping chunks of it on bread, like yellow honey."

MRS. SMITH: "Girls, your father has important news for you."

MR. SMITH: "It's —(hesitatingly) —well—we're moving to New York to live."

ROSE: "Move to New York! Why, Papa, why?"

MR. SMITH (uncomfortably): "It's for the best."

MRS. SMITH: "You mustn't blame your father. It means more money, and, after all, you want to go to college, and—"

ROSE: "But what about the World's Fair?"

ESTHER: "Just when it's about to begin, and just when St. Louis will be the center of attraction of the entire universe."

ROSE: "There are so many reasons why we can't go, Papa!"

MR. SMITH: "Well, you'll just have to get used to the idea."

MEET ME IN ST. LOUIS

presented by the junior class

ROSE: "Maybe you'll understand this, you bully!"

MR. DODGE: "Like I always say, if a man can't manage his own family . . ." (Sneaking around the corner of the couch, TOOTIE sinks her teeth in MR. DODGE'S leg.) "Owwww!"

To the students, faculty and employees of Wasco High:

This book was created by you and for you. It is not the work of one or two individuals, but rather a composite of the efforts of many people. Every person who posed for a picture contributed to its creation; every teacher who cooperated with the Wasconian staff added to its construction. Each worthwhile, school-connected activity you participated in made you a co-worker on the production staff of this annual.

Someone, however, had to organize and present this year of history to you. To those people who did more than was required of them, I would like to offer this special recognition:

Kathi Workentine and Karen Merritt — they each put a part of themselves into this book.

Mr. Ray Rexius — who could ask for more versatility and agility in a photographer? From the top of the auditorium to the bottom of a grease pit he consistently turned out good pictures.

Mr. Boggess — how do you thank someone for so willingly working on something which was in no way his responsibility?

Mr. Tom Shafer — this book was just lines on white paper; he made them into an annual.

I would also like to thank the following for their very essential part in the production of this book:

Mrs. Vera Shafer
Mr. G. E. Appel
Staff of the Shafer Publishing Company
Wasconian Staff

Most of all I would like to acknowledge everyone at Wasco High School for creating the history of this 1962-63 school year.

—Suzanne Lacy
